UNESCO KING HAMAD BIN ISA AL-KHALIFA PRIZE

FOR THE USE OF INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATION TECHNOLOGIES IN EDUCATION

Call for Nominations 2016

The use of ICTs in education for disadvantaged groups

Deadline for submission: 30 September 2016

ABOUT THE PRIZE

Funded by the Kingdom of Bahrain, the UNESCO King Hamad Bin Isa Al-Khalifa Prize was established in 2005 to recognize innovations in teaching and learning that leverage technology to improve educational outcomes. The 2016 edition of the Prize will reward the organizations and individuals that are carrying out innovative practices to leverage ICTs to expand access to education for disadvantaged learners and improve its quality and relevance.

The theme for the 2016 Prize edition: The use of ICTs in education for disadvantaged groups including refugees, internally displaced persons, socioeconomically disadvantaged learners, people with disabilities, cultural, ethnic and religious minorities, vulnerable women and girls.

WHO CAN NOMINATE?

Governments of the Member States of UNESCO or an international non-governmental organization, maintaining formal consultative relations with UNESCO and active in the relevant fields covered by the Prize. Each government or international non-governmental organization is entitled to nominate 3 candidates per year.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Individuals or Institutions that have made outstanding innovation and significant contributions through projects to support and/or promote the creative use of ICTs in education.

The criteria below shall be taken into consideration:

- Duration of projects/activities must be of at least a year to permit an assessment of results.
- Innovation and openness of content and tool.
- Evidence of sustainability for mid- to long-term application.
- The project/activity should be a first time nomination for a Prize of this kind.
