Sam has a dog named Vince. They have been good friends since Vince was a puppy. They go for a walk every day, play in the backyard on weekends, and often sleep together in Sam's bed. Vince especially likes to play with a ball. He runs around chasing the ball, and they always have a wonderful time together.

One day, when Sam took Vince for a walk, he realized that Vince was dragging his back leg. At the dog park, Vince tried to chase his ball, but he could not run. Sam became worried about Vince and took him to an animal hospital. There, the doctor said that Vince's right back leg was injured. She also told Sam that it would be difficult for Vince to walk anymore without dragging his leg. Sam was shocked and sad. He knew that Vince would be disappointed if he could not play with a ball. Also, Sam thought Vince would get weaker if he could not exercise as he normally did. Sam wanted to help Vince, but he did not know what to do.

Sam started to look for wheelchairs for dogs. After doing some research, he found a company which makes customized wheelchairs for pets. He called the company and ordered one for Vince. A few weeks later, the wheelchair arrived. Sam was worried that Vince would be uncomfortable in his wheelchair, but fortunately, the customized wheelchair was perfect for Vince.
