

Inter-University Exchange Project (since 2011)

MEXT supports universities that are developing/conducting international student exchange programs with partner universities in designated foreign countries and regions. It is expected to increase the number of student exchange through these quality-assured programs.

Examples

- ✓ Development of model university exchange programs
- ✓ Creation of common quality assurance frameworks that transcend differences in higher education systems
- ✓ Mutual recognition of credits, common grade management
- ✓ Visualization of learning results and educational contents

Expected Results

1. Increase in numbers of exchange students between Japanese and overseas partner universities.
2. Strengthening of mutual understanding and cooperation through the development and implementation of educational programs with overseas partner universities.
3. Reinforcement of government commitments made through high-level diplomacy, etc.
