

6th Asia-Pacific School Leadership Academy

Fostering School Exchanges and Networks in the Asia-Pacific

Organized by APCEIU
Sponsored by Seoul Metropolitan Office of Education 26 – 30 October 2015, Republic of Korea

1. Background

In today's complex, interconnected society, fostering global citizenship has become one of the key educational priorities in the 21st century to create a more just, peaceful, and sustainable society. APCEIU, guided by its UNESCO mandate, firmly believes that school leadership plays an indispensable role in making school contexts conducive to constructive dialogue across diversity, mutual respect, and a culture of peace and sustainability. Acting upon this conviction, APCEIU has taken various initiatives especially designed for school leaders since 2010, in order to enhance the competencies of school leaders to implement Education for International Understanding (EIU), also known as Global Citizenship Education (GCED), in their respective schools and organizations.

Now in its sixth year, the Asia-Pacific School Leadership Academy aims to strengthen the capacity of school leaders in the Asia-Pacific region to develop and implement creative and sustainable school exchange programmes, while deepening the understanding of EIU/GCED. The Academy will provide interactive workshops and a platform to exchange best examples and practical ideas on global school-to-school exchanges and networking. It is expected that after this programme school leaders will become highly motivated and competent about creating global school networks, intensifying the channels of mutual understanding across different cultures, and ultimately facilitating the growth of the Culture of Peace in the Asia-Pacific region.

Education for International Understanding (EIU), interchangeably called Global Citizenship Education (GCED), is a holistic and multi-dimensional education initiative to promote learning to live together for a Culture of Peace. EIU advocates participatory democracy, human rights and dignity, social and economic equity, ecological sustainability, and peaceful reconciliation of conflicts. EIU pedagogy emphasizes transformative and inclusive education, relevance of knowledge, empowerment of learners, as well as holistic approaches.
